1. Participating Shares

The rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the participating shares of the Corporation are:

- (a) The holders of each class of participating shares in the capital of the Corporation shall be entitled to receive dividends if, as and when declared by the Board of Directors of the Corporation out of the assets of the Corporation properly applicable to the payment of dividends in such amount and payable at such time or times as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. The Board of Directors of the Corporation is expressly authorized in their sole discretion to declare dividends on any one class of participating shares to the exclusion of any other class of participating shares of the Corporation.
- (b) The Corporation may, at any time and from time to time, purchase for cancellation the whole or any part of any class of participating shares without purchasing any other class of participating shares, at the fair value of such shares as determined by the Board of Directors.
- (c) In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation or other distribution of assets or property of the Corporation among its shareholders for the purpose of winding-up its affairs, the holders of all classes of participating shares shall be entitled to receive the remaining property of the Corporation share and share alike.
- (d) The holders of each class of participating shares shall be entitled to receive notice of and to attend at all meetings of shareholders of the Corporation and shall be entitled to one vote in respect of each participating share held at all such meetings.
- (e) In the event that any governmental taxing authority having jurisdiction shall assert by assessment, reassessment or otherwise, that the fair market value of any shares purchased for cancellation by the Corporation, or a predecessor corporation thereof, in consideration for the issuance of any participating shares by the Corporation or by a predecessor corporation thereof, is an amount different than the fair market value, in aggregate, of the participating shares so issued, then the fair market value shall be increased or decreased by the difference so determined but only to the extent that the fair market value of such shares as revised is accepted by the taxing authority and the Corporation or, failing such acceptance, is established by a court having jurisdiction in the matter after all rights of appeal have been exhausted or all rights of appeal have expired without appeals having been taken by any party. In the event that there is an adjustment to the fair market value aforesaid, such adjustment shall be deemed to be made nunc pro tunc with effect as at the date of the purchase for cancellation of any such shares.

In the event that all or a portion of the participating shares have been purchased for cancellation prior to an adjustment in the fair market value being determined as aforesaid, then:

- (i) if the fair market value is determined to be less, the Corporation shall be entitled to receive from the holders of the shares so purchased for cancellation the amount of such overpayment and such overpayment shall be deemed to be and to have always been a debt owing to the Corporation by each such holder of the shares; or
- (ii) if the fair market value is determined to be greater, the Corporation shall be required to pay to the holders of the shares so purchased for cancellation, the amount of such underpayment and such underpayment shall be deemed to be and to have always been a debt owing by the Corporation to each holder of the shares.

2. Class A Preference Shares

- (a) The holders of the Class A preference shares shall be entitled, out of any profits or surplus available for dividends, to fixed, non-cumulative preferential cash dividends at the rate of 4% per annum on the redemption price per Class A preference share. If in any year, after providing for the full fixed, non-cumulative preferential cash dividend on the Class A preference shares for that month, there shall remain any such profits or surplus, any part thereof may, in the discretion of the board of directors be applied to dividends on the participating shares. No dividend shall be declared or paid or set apart for the payment of dividends on any class of shares ranking junior to the Class A preference shares unless all fixed, non-cumulative preferential cash dividends for the year on the Class A preference shares shall have been declared or paid or set aside for payment at the time of such declaration or payment or setting apart. The holders of the Class A preference shares shall not be entitled to dividends other than or in excess of the cash dividends hereinbefore provided for.

(b) The Class A preference shares shall rank, both as regards dividends and repayment of capital, in priority to the participating shares of the Corporation. In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of the Class A preference shares shall be entitled to receive for each such share, before any such distribution amongst the holders of participating shares, the redemption price thereof and any dividends declared thereon and unpaid and no more.

Not less than thirty (30) days notice in writing of such redemption shall be given by mailing such notice to the registered holders of the Class A preference shares to be redeemed, specifying the date and the place or places of redemption.
