VOORNEMAN GEENEN NOTARISSEN

The undersigned,

Anton Arnaud Voorneman,
civil law notary in Amsterdam, certifies that the attached document is a fair English translation of the deed of amendment and the articles of association of the private company with limited liability:

MultiServ International B.V.
with statutory seat in IJmuiden

In this translation an attempt has been made to be as literal as possible without jeopardizing the overall continuity.
Inevitably, differences may occur in translation, and if so the Dutch text will by law govern.

AMENDMENT ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

On the twenty-sixth day of October two thousand four appeared before me,
Anton Arnaud Voorneman, civil law notary in Amsterdam:
Mr. Franciscus Antonius Nicolaas van Rooijen, with office address at 1083 GV Amsterdam, Arent Janszoon Ernststraat 199, born at Mijdrecht on the seventh day of December nineteen hundred seventy-seven.

The appearer declared:

- the shareholder of the private company with limited liability:
Heckett MultiServ International B.V., number BV: 341666, with statutory seat in IJmuiden and offices at 1951 JZ Velsen-Noord, Wenckebachstraat 1, filed at the Trade Register of the Chamber of Commerce in Amsterdam under number: 34089256, resolved as follows outside of a meeting on the twenty-ninth day of January two thousand four:
 - a. to amend the company's articles of association as stated below;
 - b. to authorize him, appearer, to execute the notarial deed of the amendment of the articles of association.
- A copy of the resolution will be attached to this deed.
- The articles of the company have been lastly amended by deed executed on the twentieth day of December two thousand before Mr. H. Mannheim, civil law notary in Amsterdam, the declaration of no objection as mentioned in article 2:235 Dutch Civil Code was granted on the fifteenth day of November two thousand under number BV 341666.
- The declaration of no objection as mentioned in article 2:235 Dutch Civil Code is granted under number BV 341666 dated the twenty-second day of October two thousand four, which declaration will be attached to this deed.

To execute the foresaid decision the appearer declared to amend the articles of association as follows:

Article 1. Name, seat and duration

1. The name of the company is:
MultiServ International B.V.
2. The seat of the company will be in IJmuiden
3. The company has been entered into for an indefinite period of time.

Article 2. Purposes

The company's objects are:

- a. incorporating, participating in, collaborating with, conducting the executive over, providing services to or financing other business enterprises or legal entities;
- b. providing security for the debts of or acting as guarantor or joint and several debtor, warranting the performance of a subsidiary or legal entity in which the company has a participating interest, a company or business enterprise with which it is allied in a group or any third party;
- c. acquiring, managing, operating and disposing of real property or chattels and the restricted rights thereto as well as other assets;
- d. to exploit and to trade patents, marks, licenses, know-how, industrial and intellectual rights of property;
- e. to do all that is connected therewith or may be conducive thereto, all this to be interpreted in the widest sense.

Article 3. Capital and shares

1. The authorized capital amounts to two million euro (EUR 2,000,000.--).
2. It is divided into forty million (40,000,000) shares, each with a nominal value of five eurocent (EUR 0.05).
3. The shares are registered in the name of the holders.
No share-certificates shall be issued.

Article 4. Shareholders' register

1. The Managing Board shall keep a register in which the names and addresses of all shareholders shall be recorded, with mention of the date they acquired the shares, the date of acknowledgement or service as well as the amount paid in on each share.
2. The provisions of Article 2:194 Dutch Civil Code are applicable.

Article 5. Issue of shares

1. The issue of shares shall be effected pursuant to a resolution of the general meeting of shareholders - hereinafter referred to as: the "general meeting" - insofar as the general meeting has not designated another organ of the company in this respect.
2. For the issue of a share further an appropriate notarial deed, executed by a civil law notary, officiating in the Netherlands, in which deed all parties involved are represented, shall be required.
3. A resolution for the issue of shares shall stipulate whether shareholders have a right to pre-emption, with due observance of the provisions of the Law.
4. The Managing Board is entitled without prior approval of the general meeting of shareholders to perform acts in law as mentioned in article 2:204, paragraph 1

Dutch Civil Code.

Article 6. Shares in the company's own capital

1. The company may acquire fully paid-up shares in its own capital for nil consideration or for valuable consideration, but the latter only to the maximum permitted in law and with due observance of the provisions otherwise laid down in law.
2. The company may not provide security, guarantee a rate, warrant performance in any other way or bind itself jointly or severally together with or on behalf of third parties, in order to enable third parties to subscribe or acquire shares in its capital. This also applies to the company's subsidiaries.
3. The company may only grant loans in order to enable third parties to subscribe for or acquire shares in the company's capital to a maximum of the total distributable reserves.
4. The company must maintain a non-distributable reserve equivalent to the outstanding sum of the loans referred to in the preceding paragraph.
5. In the present article, the term 'shares' will be deemed to include the depositary receipts issued therefor.

Article 7. Transfer of shares. Life estate. Pledging

1. The transfer of shares as well as the creation or transfer of a limited right thereon, shall require an appropriate notarial deed, executed by a civil law notary, officiating in the Netherlands, in which deed all parties involved are represented.
2. The rights attached to the shares cannot be exercised by the new shareholder before the legal act has been acknowledged by the company or has been serviced on the company, according to the relevant provisions of the law, unless the company itself is a party to the legal act.
3. If a life estate is created or if the shares are pledged, the voting rights cannot be assigned to the estate holder or the pledgee.
4. The company can acknowledge the transfer in the deed itself or pursuant to the submission of a notarial copy or extract from the deed, in which case the company will endorse the document submitted with a dated statement. A notarial copy or extract from the deed must be served on the company.
5. If the company is aware of the legal transaction described in paragraph 1 of this article, it may acknowledge that transaction of its own volition, as long as no acknowledgement has been requested or no deed served on it, by entering the name of the acquirer of the share or the restricted right in the register of shareholders. The company will notify the parties to the legal transaction of this fact immediately by registered letter, requesting them to submit a notarial copy or extract from the deed as yet. After receipt thereof, the company will endorse the document in the manner prescribed in the first sentence of paragraph 4 of this article in evidence of its acknowledgement, whereby the date of acknowledgement will be the date of entry.

Article 8. Restrictions on the transfer of shares

1. In order to be valid, each transfer of a share and each charge of a share with a

- real right, requires the approval of the general meeting.
2. The applicant must apply to the company for such approval by registered letter, setting out the number of shares and the name of the person or persons to whom the applicant wishes to transfer the relevant share or shares.
 3. A decision on the application must be made within three months. Such an application will be deemed to have been approved if the applicant has not been informed of a decision by registered letter within this period.
 4. The rejection of the application will be deemed to constitute an approval if the general meeting has failed to inform the applicant, simultaneously with the rejection, of the name of one or more prospective purchasers, (who could be shareholders, third parties, or if the applicant consents thereto, the company itself), willing to purchase all the shares covered by the application in cash.
 5. Unless the applicant and the prospective purchasers accepted by him agree otherwise, the purchase price will be fixed by one or more independent experts to be appointed by the applicant and the prospective purchasers by joint consent. If they fail to reach agreement on this within one month of the dispatch of the registered letter described in paragraph 3, the party most willing to initiate proceedings will request the chair of the Chamber of Commerce and Industries, within the jurisdiction of which the company has its registered office, to appoint three independent experts.
 6. The experts referred to in the preceding paragraph are authorized to examine all the company's books and records and to obtain any information which could be conducive to their valuation.
 7. The applicant is entitled to withdraw his application, provided he does so within one month of having been informed to which prospective purchasers he may sell the shares covered by the application and for which price.
 8. If the application for approval is approved or must be deemed to have been approved, the transfer proposed by the applicant can be made within a period of three months after receipt of the notice of approval, of a notice which must be deemed to constitute approval or, if no decision has been brought to the attention of the applicant, after the expiry of the three months period described in paragraph 3.
 9. The costs incurred in connection with the appointment of the experts described above in paragraph 5 and their fees will be for account of:
 - a. the applicant, if he withdraws his application;
 - b. the applicant for one half and the purchasers who had not agreed with the applicant on the price before the experts were designated for the other half, while if the shares are sold to prospective purchasers designated by the general meeting, each of those purchasers will contribute towards these costs in proportion to the number of shares purchased by them;
 - c. in any other cases, the company.
 10. The provisions of this article will not be applicable if the shareholder is required in law to transfer his share to a previous holder.

Article 9. Board of Directors

1. The company's executive will be conducted by a Board of Directors consisting of at least two members.
2. The general meeting will appoint the members of the Board of Directors and will be authorized to suspend or remove them at any time.
3. The general meeting shall determine the remuneration and further conditions of employment for each member of the Managing Board.
4. The Board of Directors will remain a body which is duly constituted in law, even if there are vacancies on that Board.

Article 10. Representation

1. The Board of Directors will represent the company unless the law stipulates otherwise. Two members of the Board of Directors are also authorized to represent the company, acting jointly.
2. If the company has a conflict of interests with one or more members of the Board of Directors, the company will nevertheless be represented in the manner described above.
3. The Board of Directors will allocate its duties amongst the members and will elect a chair and deputy chair from its midst, and a secretary or a deputy from its midst or elsewhere.
4. The Board of Directors is authorized to enter into agreements:
 - a. connected with the subscription of shares whereby special obligations are imposed on the company;
 - b. in which one of the company's incorporators or any third party involved in the incorporation stands to benefit in any way;
 - c. concerning the contribution on shares otherwise than in cash.
5. The Board of Directors may appoint one or more proxy-holders and decide on their powers and titles.
6. Any documents issued by the company constituting an agreement or any discharge must be signed by a member of the Board of Directors or by one or two proxy-holders, in the sense however that the proxy-holders can only do so with due observance of the powers granted to them.
7. The Board of Directors must obtain the approval of the general meeting for resolutions concerning:
 - a. the acquisition, charging or disposal of real property;
 - b. the conclusion of a debenture loan, credit agreements or guarantees;
 - c. the incorporation or joint incorporation of, the acquisition of any interest or participation in the capital of other enterprises or for the disposal, termination or charging of such participations or interests;
 - d. important amendments to the structure of the business organization;
 - e. the acquisition or disposal of shares in the company's authorized capital as described in article 6, paragraph 1 of the present Articles of Association.
8. If all the shares in the company subscribed by others than the company or its subsidiaries have become the property of one shareholder or one community of matrimonial property, the company's legal transactions vis-à-vis that shareholder or vis-à-vis one of the participants in that community of matrimonial property, in which the company is represented by one of these, must be recorded in writing. The above is however not applicable to legal transactions constituting a part of the company's normal business operations under the agreed terms.

Article 11. Meetings of the Board of Directors

1. The Board of Directors will meet as often as one of its members deems necessary.
2. The meetings of the Board of Directors will be convened by or on behalf of the chair of that Board, and the convening letter must set out the subjects to be considered.
3. The members of the Board of Directors can arrange to be represented in Board meetings by one of their fellow members.
4. The Board can only adopt resolutions if the majority of its members are present or represented at that meeting.
5. The Board of Directors will adopt resolutions by an absolute majority. In the event of a tie in voting, the chair will have a casting vote.
6. Minutes will be drawn up of the matters considered in the meetings of the Board of Directors by the secretary of that Board or his deputy, and these will be adopted and signed by the chair of the meeting and the person who took the minutes.

Article 12. Absence or inability to act

In case one or more members of the Managing Board are prevented or incapacitated to act, the remaining members or the remaining member of the Managing Board shall be temporarily entrusted with the full management of the company, whereas in case all members of the Managing Board or the sole member of the Managing Board are prevented or incapacitated to act, the management shall be temporarily entrusted to two persons to be designated thereto each year by the general meeting.

Article 13. Financial year and annual accounts

1. The financial year of the company shall be the calendar year.
2. Annually, within five months after the end of the financial year concerned - unless this term is extended by the general meeting with not more than six months by reason of special circumstances -, the Managing Board shall draw up the annual accounts consisting of a balance-sheet, a profit and loss account and explanatory notes.

Within said period the annual accounts and the annual report shall be available at the company's office for inspection by the shareholders.

Article 14. The appropriation of profits

1. The profits are at the disposal of the general meeting.
2. The company may pay out distributions from the profits only to the extent that the shareholders' equity exceeds the paid up and called up portion of the capital, plus the reserves which must be maintained in law.
3. Profits will be distributed only after the adoption of the annual accounts providing evidence that such distributions are permissible.
4. The general meeting may pay out interim distributions only if the pre-requisites of paragraph 2 above have been complied with.

Article 15. General meetings

1. General meetings will be held in the municipality where the company has its registered offices according to the Articles of Association.
2. The Board of Directors will dispatch the convening letters to attend a general meeting to the addresses of the shareholders and holders of depositary receipts recorded in the register of shareholders, at least thirty days before the date of the general meeting, not counting the date of dispatch and the date of the meeting. The letters must record the matters to be considered, without prejudice to the provisions laid down in law in respect of the reduction of capital and amendments to the Articles of Association.
3. The general meeting will appoint its own chair.
4. The general meeting intended for the consideration and adoption of the annual accounts must be conducted annually within six months after the end of the financial year. The agenda of that meeting must include the following items of consideration:
 - a. the Board of Director's report on the company's business operations and the executive conducted in the past financial year;
 - b. the adoption of the balance-sheet and the profit-and-loss accounts;
 - c. the appropriations of profits;
 - d. the appointment of the two persons described in article 12 of the present Articles of Association;
 - e. any motions placed on the agenda by the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders which are announced with due observance of the provisions of the present Articles of Association.
5. General meetings will otherwise be conducted as often as the Board of Directors believes this is necessary, without prejudice to the relevant provisions of law.
6. A general meeting in which the entire issued capital is represented may adopt legally-valid resolutions on any subjects brought up, even if the requirements for convening and holding meetings laid down in law have not been complied with, provided that such resolutions are adopted unanimously.
7. Every shareholder is authorized to attend the general meeting, either in person or via a proxy holding a written power of attorney, to address that meeting and to exercise voting rights.

Each share entitles the holder thereof to cast one vote.
8. All resolutions must be adopted by an absolute majority of the votes validly cast, unless the law or the present Articles of Association prescribe a larger majority.
9. Meetings will be chaired by the chair or the deputy chair of the Board of Directors and, in the absence thereof, by one of the other members of that Board. If none of the members of the Board of Directors is present at the meeting, the meeting will appoint its own chair.
10. Minutes will be kept of all the matters considered in general meetings of shareholders by the secretary of the Board of Directors or his/her deputy, and these will be confirmed and signed by the chair and by the person appointed to draw up the minutes. If a notarial record is drawn up of the proceedings in a meeting of shareholders, the counter-signature thereof by the chair of the general meeting will be deemed to suffice.

11. The Board of Directors will keep a record of the resolutions adopted by the general meeting of shareholders. Those records will be available for examination by the shareholders and holders of depositary receipts at the company's offices.
12. Shareholders and holders of depositary receipts may request the Board of Directors to provide them with a copy or extract from the documents described in paragraphs 9 and 10 of this article for at most cost price.

Article 16. Voting

1. Voting must be conducted in writing, unless the chair of the meeting decides that voting will be conducted in another fashion, in which event none of the shareholders present may object.
2. If there is no absolute majority when voting on the election of a person, there will be a new round of voting. If there is again no absolute majority, there will be a new round of voting between the two persons who obtained the most votes in the second round of voting. If more than two persons qualify for this new round of voting, lots will be drawn to decide which two persons, or which of the persons who obtained the most votes will proceed to the second round of voting. The person who obtains the most votes in the second round of voting will be elected, while if there is a tie in voting in this second round of voting, lots will be drawn.
3. In the event of a tie in voting on matters of business, the motion will be deemed to have been rejected.
4. Blank or signed ballots will be deemed to be valueless.

Article 17. The decision-making process if no meeting is convened Shareholders may also adopt resolutions without convening a meeting, provided that such resolutions are adopted unanimously by all the shareholders entitled to vote. Votes can only be cast in writing (including by telegraph, by telefax or by telex). No resolutions can be adopted in the manner described above if there are holders of depositary receipts.

Article 18. Amendment

In case a proposal for amendment of the Articles of Association is submitted to the general meeting simultaneously a copy of the proposal in which the verbatim text of the proposed amendment is embodied has to be deposited at the company's office for inspection by those who are entitled thereto by Law, until the end of the meeting concerned.

Article 19. Dissolution

1. At the dissolution of the company by virtue of a resolution of the general meeting, the liquidation shall be effected by the Board of Directors, unless the general meeting shall decide otherwise.
2. The general meeting shall fix the remuneration of the liquidators.
3. The liquidation shall be effected with due observance of the applicable provisions of the law.

4. The remainder of the assets of the company after payment of all creditors shall be transferred to the shareholders in proportion to the nominal value of their shareholding.
5. The liquidation shall otherwise be subject to the provisions of Title 1 of Book 2 Dutch Civil Code.
6. During the liquidation the Articles of Association shall remain applicable insofar as possible.
7. After the company has been wound up, the books and records of the defunct company will remain in the safekeeping of the person to be designated for that purpose by the general meeting of shareholders for a period of seven years.
8. The company will cease to exist on the date on which, to the liquidators' knowledge, no further proceeds are available. The liquidators will notify the registers in which the company is registered of that fact.

Final statement

Finally the appearer declared that:

- according to the present articles of association the nominal value of the shares amounts to five cent (NLG 0,05);
- in accordance with the provisions of article 2:178c Dutch Civil Code the nominal value of the shares is converted into two eurocent (EUR 0.02) as per the first day of January two thousand two.

As a result of this deed of amendment of the articles of association the issued twenty-five million one hundred fifteen thousand eight hundred twenty (25,115,820) shares, each with a nominal value of two eurocent (EUR 0.02), are converted into eleven million three hundred ninety-seven thousand (11,397,000) shares, each with a nominal value of five eurocent (EUR 0.05).

The balance between the total nominal value of the shares in Euro's and the former paid-up capital in Dutch guilders, being three euro and eleven eurocent (EUR 3.11) will be added to the legal reserves in euro denomination.

The appearer is known to me, notary.

THIS DEED,

has been executed at Amsterdam, on the day and year mentioned in the heading in this deed.

The contents of this deed were stated and explained in substance to the appearer.

The appearer then declared to be well informed on and to agree with the contents of this deed and not to care for a reading out in full.

Immediately after partial reading, the appearer and I, notary, signed this deed.
