Change of Owner (Assignments) & Change of Owner Name

United States Patent and Trademark Office

An Agency of the Department of Commerce

Change of Owner (Assignments) & Change of Owner Name

During the examination of a pending trademark application as well as after a trademark has registered, the owner of a trademark may change for various reasons. Some trademark owners transfer their ownership of a mark to another entity, which is called an assignment. In addition, some trademark owners change their names while retaining ownership. In both instances, the USPTO advises trademark owners to record the ownership transfer (assignment) or (name change) with the Assignment Services Division of the USPTO.

[Note: An applicant cannot assign an intent to use application before the applicant files an amendment to allege use under 15 U.S.C. §1051(d) of the Act, except to a successor to the applicant's business, or portion of the business to which the mark pertains, if that business is ongoing and existing. 15 U.S.C. §1060; 37 C.F.R. §3.16.]

Recording an Assignment Online

To record an assignment or name change, the owner must file a Recordation Form Cover Sheet along with a copy of the actual assignment or proof of name change. Requests to record documents in the Assignment Services Division can be filed through the USPTO website, at <http://etas.uspto.gov> (<http://etas.uspto.gov>). Locate the current fee schedule at How to Pay Fees (main/howtofees.htm) to determine the current fee for assignment recordation (Trademark Services Fee Code 8521)
