ARTICLE 2

ASSIGNMENT

2.1 Assignment. For good and valuable consideration recited in that certain Contribution Agreement between the Transferor and Marlborough executed contemporaneously herewith (the "Contribution Agreement"), Transferor hereby assigns and transfers to Marlborough, and Marlborough hereby accepts:

(a) Transferor's entire right, title, interest, and benefit, including the right to bring action(s) and collect damages for any past infringements, in and to the Assigned Patents;

2.3 Assistance in Perfecting Rights. As of the Effective Date, Marlborough shall be solely responsible for monitoring and directing the prosecution and maintenance of all Assigned Patents and Assigned Trademarks and Tradenames. Whenever reasonably and timely requested by Marlborough, Transferor shall promptly execute or cause to be executed and shall deliver to Marlborough or its representatives any documents necessary for recording Marlborough's ownership of each of the Assigned Content, Assigned Patents, Assigned Software, Assigned Domain Names and Assigned Trademarks and Tradenames. 4.1 No Warranty - Patents, Trademarks and Tradenames. Except as set forth herein, Transferor makes no express or implied warranty or representation with respect to the Patents or Trademarks and Tradenames, including without limitation any warranty or representation regarding the scope, validity and enforceability of the Patents or Trademarks and Tradenames, or the usefulness, merchantability, functional effectiveness, safety, performance or fitness for any particular use of any products resulting from intellectual property assigned or licensed hereunder, or that the exercise of rights pursuant to the Patents or Trademarks and Tradenames will not infringe upon the patents or other rights of another, unless represented otherwise in this IPAL Agreement.

4.3 Liability - Transferor. In no event shall Transferor be liable for any incidental, indirect, special or consequential damages suffered or incurred in connection with the assignments or licenses granted hereunder. Except as otherwise provided in this IPAL Agreement, no representation or warranty is made by Transferor that any products resulting from intellectual property assigned or licensed hereunder or manufactured, used, sold or otherwise disposed of by Marlborough under this IPAL Agreement will not infringe patents owned or controlled by any third party, and Transferor shall not be liable, either directly or indirectly or as an indemnitor of Marlborough, as a consequence of any infringement of any such third party patents.

4.4 Liability - Marlborough. In no event shall Marlborough be liable for any incidental, indirect, special or consequential damages suffered or incurred in connection with the assignments or licenses granted hereunder. Except as otherwise provided in this IPAL Agreement, no representation or warranty is made by Marlborough that any products resulting from intellectual property assigned or licensed hereunder or manufactured, used, sold or otherwise disposed of by Transferor under this IPAL Agreement will not infringe patents owned or controlled by any third party, and Marlborough shall not be liable, either directly or indirectly or as an indemnitor of Transferor, as a consequence of any infringement of any such third party patents.

4.5 Marlborough Representations. Marlborough represents and warrants: (a) that it has the full power and authority to enter into this IPAL Agreement; and (b) that to the best of its knowledge, information and belief Marlborough has not and will not intentionally and knowingly enter into any agreement with another party which is inconsistent or in derogation or conflict with this IPAL Agreement in any respect, whether written or oral. Except for the foregoing, Marlborough makes no other representation or warranties. Marlborough agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Transferor against and from any and all claims, suits, damages, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney fees) based upon or resulting from any claim by any other person, firm, corporation or other entity arising out of the breach by Marlborough of any of the foregoing warranties and representations recited in this Section 4.5; provided that Marlborough shall be provided notice of such claim or suit, that Transferor shall have sole authority to defend or settle any third party claim or suit, and Marlborough shall fully cooperate with Transferor in the defense or settlement of such third party claim or suit. The foregoing representations and warranties shall survive the termination of this IPAL Agreement.

4.6 Transferor Representations. Transferor represents and warrants (a) that it has the full power and authority to enter into this IPAL Agreement; and (b) that to the best of its knowledge, information and belief, Transferor has not and will not intentionally and knowingly enter into any agreement with another party which is inconsistent or in derogation or conflict with this IPAL Agreement in any respect, whether written or oral. Except for the foregoing, Transferor makes no other representation or warranties. Transferor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Marlborough against and from any and all claims, suits, damages, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney fees) based upon or resulting from any claim by any other person, firm, corporation or other entity arising out of the breach by Transferor of any of the foregoing warranties and representations as recited in this Section 4.6; provided that Transferor shall be provided notice of such claim or suit, that Marlborough shall have sole authority to defend or settle any third party claim or suit, and Transferor shall fully cooperate with Marlborough in the defense or settlement of such third party claim or suit. The foregoing representations and warranties shall survive the termination of this IPAL Agreement.

TERMINATION/SURVIVAL

5.1 Termination. This IPAL Agreement will automatically and immediately terminate upon expiration of the Term.

5.2 Survival of Licenses. In the event that a Party to this IPAL Agreement attempts to assign this IPAL Agreement in a manner not permitted hereunder, the licenses granted to such Party in this IPAL Agreement shall immediately terminate, but the licenses granted by such Party to the other Party hereunder shall not terminate and shall remain in full force and effect.

5.3 Provision Survival Upon Termination. The provisions of ARTICLES 5, 7 and 11 shall survive any expiration or termination of this IPAL Agreement.

ARTICLE 6

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

6.1 Dispute Settlement/Arbitration. Except as provided herein, no civil action with respect to any dispute, claim, or controversy arising out of or relating to this IPAL Agreement may be commenced unless the Parties have first attempted in good faith to resolve such dispute, claim, or controversy as provided in this Section 6.1. Either Party, its successors or assigns may initiate the mediation process by providing written notice in letter form to the other Party (hereinafter, "Dispute Notice"). The Dispute Notice shall (i) signal the formal commencement of this dispute resolution provision and the dates, deadlines, and time frames set forth herein; (ii) make specific reference to this Section 6.1; and (iii) set forth the subject of the dispute and the specific relief requested. The recipient of such notice will respond in writing within five (5) days with a statement of its position and recommended solution to the dispute. If the dispute is not resolved by this exchange of correspondence, then each Party shall designate one or more representatives having full settlement authority to meet at a mutually agreeable time and place within twenty (20) days of the Dispute Notice in order to exchange relevant information and perspectives, and to attempt to resolve the dispute. If the dispute is not resolved within five (5) days of the commencement of such meeting, unless otherwise mutually extended, each Party shall have the right to institute legal action, provided however, that if each Party agrees, the Parties may proceed to non-binding mediation with a mediator to be chosen through the American Arbitration Association and with mediation to occur in Boston, Massachusetts. Each Party will bear its own costs relevant to the mediation process. All offers, promises, conduct, and statements, whether oral or written, made in the course of the mediation process by either of the Parties, their agents, employees, experts, or attorneys, are confidential, privileged, and inadmissible for any purposes, including impeachment, in any litigation or other proceeding involving the Parties, and shall be treated as compromise and settlement for the purposes of Federal and State evidentiary rules, provided that evidence that is otherwise admissible or discoverable shall not be rendered inadmissible or non-discoverable as a result of its use in any mediation. Each of the Parties shall bear its own expenses in any mediation or litigation, except that the prevailing Party, after taking into account offers of settlement, shall be entitled, as determined by the finder of fact, to reimbursement from the other Party for its reasonable attorney fees.

ARTICLE 7

10.1 Use and Non-disclosure. In fulfilling the purposes of this IPAL Agreement, as well as the future business relationship of the Parties, each Party will take reasonable care to safeguard the confidential nature of, and to protect from the unauthorized disclosure or use, of any proprietary information received from the other Party, including, but not limited to: product information, product costs, units manufactured or sold, information pertaining to dispute settlements under this IPAL Agreement, and technical and business information relating to the Assigned Software, Assigned Patents and Assigned Trademarks and Tradenames (hereinafter referred to as "Proprietary Information"). Subject to the provisions of Section 11.2, the Parties will hold in confidence, and will not disclose or communicate or permit to be disclosed or communicated to any person, any Proprietary Information of the other Party. Proprietary Information, however, does not include any information that either Party can demonstrate that: (a) is now or subsequently becomes generally available or known to the public through no fault of the other Party; (b) was known or in the possession of the other Party prior to disclosure thereof to the receiving Party by disclosing Party; (c) is or was independently developed by a Party without the use of any Proprietary Information; (d) the receiving Party rightfully obtained the Proprietary Information from a third party who has the right to transfer or disclose the information; or (e) the receiving Party is required to disclose or produce pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction; provided the receiving Party notifies the disclosing Party of the requirement so as to give the disclosing Party an opportunity to challenge the court order time permitting and without penalty of the receiving Party. In protecting Proprietary Information, the receiving Party shall exercise the same degree of care to prevent the disclosure or communication of the Proprietary Information to other persons that it uses to protect its own proprietary information; however, in no case will that degree of care be less than reasonable care. The foregoing shall not supersede any other confidential obligations between the Parties.

10.2 Proprietary Information Exceptions. Either Party may disclose Proprietary Information of the other to such Party's employees, customers, agents, suppliers, and subcontractors to the extent that each such disclosure is reasonably necessary for purposes of: manufacturing, selling, installing, repairing, and/or servicing any product made or used in accordance with any intellectual property assigned or licensed hereunder; or procuring goods and services required in connection therewith; provided that the disclosing Party's employees, customers, agents, suppliers, and subcontractors are bound to the same terms and conditions regarding the protection of the Proprietary Information as bind the Parties hereto.

BANKRUPTCY

11.1 Bankruptcy. Except with respect to trademarks, all rights and licenses granted by Marlborough under or pursuant to this License Agreement are, for all purposes of Section 365(n) of Title 11 of the United States Code ("Title 11"), licenses of rights to "intellectual property" as defined in Title 11. Marlborough agrees that, in the event of the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings by or against Marlborough under Title 11, Transferor, as licensee of such rights under this License Agreement, shall retain and may fully exercise all of its rights under this License Agreement (including the license granted hereunder) and all of its rights and elections under Title 11. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, if this License Agreement is terminated under any applicable insolvency law, or Marlborough or an administrator refuses to further perform this License Agreement (or any of Marlborough's obligations hereunder) under any applicable insolvency law, then Transferor may elect to retain all of its license rights under this License Agreement (including without limitation the rights described in Article 3 above) for the remainder of the term of this License Agreement.

ARTICLE 12

12.4 Provision Invalidity. In the event that one or more provision(s) of this IPAL Agreement is or becomes or is deemed invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of this IPAL Agreement, and this IPAL Agreement shall be construed as if such illegal, invalid or unenforceable provision(s) had not been contained herein.

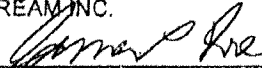

12.5 Agreement Headings. The headings contained in this IPAL Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this IPAL Agreement. Likewise, the entries in the Status field of the attached Schedules are present only for the convenience of the Parties; and it is understood by the Parties that no representation is being made by Transferor, nor should it be implied, that the entries will be current on the Effective Date.
