INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY SECURITY AGREEMENT

This Intellectual Property Security Agreement (this "Agreement") dated August 21, 2012 is executed by and between CLICKFOX, INC., a Delaware corporation, having a principal place of business located at 3445 Peachtree Road, Suite 1250, Atlanta, Georgia 30326 (the "Debtor"), and HERCULES TECHNOLOGY III, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, 400 Hamilton Avenue, Suite 310, Palo Alto, CA 94301 (together with its successors and/or assigns, the "Secured Party").

RECITALS

A. Pursuant to the terms of that certain Loan and Security Agreement of even date herewith (as the same may be amended, restated or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Loan Agreement") by and between the Debtor and the Secured Party, the Secured Party has established a certain term loan arrangement in favor of the Debtor (collectively, the "Term Loan"), which Term Loan is evidenced by, among other things, the Note (as defined in the Loan Agreement). Capitalized terms used herein and not defined shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Loan Agreement.

B. To induce the Secured Party to establish the Term Loan in favor of Debtor pursuant to the terms of the Loan Agreement, the Debtor desires to grant a security interest to the Secured Party in all of the Debtor's right title and interest, whether presently existing or hereafter acquired in, to and under all of the Collateral (as defined in Section 1 hereof).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises set forth above, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, it is hereby agreed as follows:

1. Security Interest. As security for the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) described in Section 2 hereof, the Debtor hereby grants to the Secured Party a security interest in, and pledges and assigns to the Secured Party, the property described below, together with any and all accessions, additions and improvements thereto and substitutions and replacements and proceeds thereof (hereinafter referred to collectively as the "Collateral"):

(a) All of the following property, now owned or hereafter acquired by the Debtor in which the Debtor now holds or hereafter acquires any interest (collectively, the "Copyrights"): (i) all copyrights, whether registered or unregistered, held pursuant to the laws of the United States, any State thereof, or of any other country; (ii) all registrations, applications and recordings in the United States Copyright Office or in any similar office or agency of the United States, of any State thereof, or of any other country; (iii) all continuations, renewals or extensions thereof; and (iv) all registrations to be issued under any pending applications, including, without limitation, all of the foregoing set forth on Schedule A attached hereto;

(b) All of the following property, now owned or hereafter acquired by the Debtor or in which the Debtor now holds or hereafter acquires any interest (collectively, the "Patents"): (i) all letters patent of, or rights corresponding thereto, in the United States or in any other country, all registrations and recordings thereof, and all applications for letters patent of, or rights corresponding thereto, in the United States or any other country, including registrations, recordings and applications in the United States Patent and Trademark Office or in any similar office or agency of the United States, any State thereof or any other country; (ii) all reissues, continuations, continuations-in-part or extensions thereof; (iii) all petty patents, divisionals, and patents of addition; and (iv) all patents to be issued under any such applications, including, without limitation, all of the foregoing set forth on Schedule B attached hereto;

(c) All of the following property, now owned or hereafter acquired by the Debtor or in which the Debtor now holds or hereafter acquires any interest (collectively, the "Trademarks"): (i) all trademarks (registered, common law or otherwise), tradenames, corporate names, business names, trade styles, service marks, logos, other source or business identifiers (and all goodwill associated therewith), prints and labels on which any of the foregoing have appeared or appear, and designs of like nature, now existing or hereafter adopted or acquired, all registrations and recordings thereof, and any applications in connection therewith, including registrations, recordings and applications in the United States Patent and Trademark Office or in any similar office or agency of the United States, any State thereof or any other country or any political subdivision thereof, and (ii) all reissues, extensions or renewals thereof, including, without limitation, all of the foregoing set forth on Schedule C attached hereto;

(d) Any Copyright license, Patent license, Trademark license or other license of rights or interests now held or hereafter acquired by the Debtor or in which the Debtor now holds or hereafter acquires any interest and any renewals or extensions thereof, including, without limitation, all of the foregoing set forth on Schedule D attached hereto (collectively, the “Licenses”);

(e) Debtor’s software, source codes, trade secrets and inventions (whether or not patented or patentable);

(f) Debtor’s technical information, procedures, processes, designs, knowledge, and know-how; Debtor’s data bases, models and drawings;

(g) Debtor’s skill, expertise, and experience; Debtor’s websites, world wide web addresses, domain names, URL’s, moral rights, publicity rights, mask works and any other proprietary, intellectual or industrial proprietary rights of any kind or nature that do not compromise or are not protected by the Patents, Trademarks, Copyrights or Licenses;

(h) Debtor’s applications therefor and reissues, extensions, or renewals thereof; and

(i) Debtor’s goodwill associated with any of the foregoing, together with Debtor’s rights to sue for past, present and future infringement of the foregoing and the goodwill associated therewith.

2. Secured Obligations. The security interest hereby granted shall secure the due and punctual payment and performance of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement).

3. Special Warranties and Covenants of the Debtor. The Debtor hereby warrants and represents that the representations and warranties contained in Section 5 of the Loan Agreement are true, correct and complete, and the provisions of Section 5 of the Loan Agreement are hereby incorporated herein by reference and made a part hereof.

4. Rights of the Secured Party. Upon the occurrence of any Event of Default (as defined in Section 6 hereof), such default not having previously been remedied or cured, the Secured Party may declare all of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) to be immediately due and payable and shall then have the rights and remedies of a secured party under the UCC or under any other applicable law, including, without limitation, the right to take possession of the Collateral and, in addition thereto, the right to enter upon any premises on which the Collateral or any part thereof may be situated and remove the same therefrom. The Secured Party may require the Debtor to make the Collateral (to the extent the same is moveable) available to the Secured Party at a place to be designated by the Secured Party which is reasonably convenient to both parties. Unless the Collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market, the Secured Party will give the Debtor at least ten (10) days’ prior written notice at the address of the Debtor set forth above (or at such other address or addresses as the Debtor shall specify in writing to the Secured Party) of the time and place of any public sale thereof or of the time after which any private sale or any other intended disposition thereof is to be made. Any such notice shall be deemed to meet any requirement hereunder or under any applicable law (including the UCC) that reasonable notification be given of the time and place of such sale or other disposition. After deducting all costs and expenses of collection, storage, custody, sale or other disposition and delivery (including reasonable legal costs and attorneys' fees and all out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Secured Party) and all other charges against the Collateral, the residue of the proceeds of any such sale or disposition shall be applied to the payment of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) in such order of priority as the Secured Party shall determine and any surplus shall be returned to the Debtor or to any person or party lawfully entitled thereto (including, if applicable, any subordinated creditors of the Debtor). In the event the proceeds of any sale, lease or other disposition of the Collateral hereunder are insufficient to pay all of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) in full, the Debtor will be liable for the deficiency, together with interest thereon, at the default rate as set forth in Section 2.6 of the Loan Agreement and the cost and expenses of collection of such deficiency, including (to the extent permitted by law), without limitation, reasonable legal costs and attorneys' fees, expenses and disbursements.

5. Rights of Secured Party to Use and Operate Collateral. Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default (as defined in Section 6 hereof), but subject to the provisions of the UCC or other applicable law, the Secured Party shall also have the right and power to take possession of all or any part of the Collateral, and to exclude the Debtor and all persons claiming under the Debtor wholly or partly therefrom, and thereafter to hold, store, and/or use, operate, manage and control the same, exercising all rights and powers of the Debtor in respect thereto. Any income received by the Secured Party from the Collateral shall be applied to pay the expenses of maintaining and protecting the Collateral and conducting the Debtor's business, and to make all payments which the Secured Party may be required or may elect to make, if any, for taxes, assessments, insurance and other charges upon the Collateral or any part thereof, and all other payments which the Secured Party may be required or authorized to make under any provision of this Agreement (including legal costs and reasonable attorneys' fees). The remainder of such income shall be applied to the payment of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) in such order of priority as the Secured Party shall determine and, unless otherwise provided by law or by a court of competent jurisdiction, any surplus shall be returned to the Debtor or to any person or party lawfully entitled thereto (including, if applicable, any subordinated creditors of the Debtor). Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Secured Party shall have the right to apply for and have a receiver appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction in any action taken by the Secured Party to enforce their rights and remedies hereunder in order to manage, protect and preserve the Collateral and continue the operation of the business of the Debtor and to collect all revenues and profits thereof and apply the same to the payment of all expenses and other charges of such receivership including the compensation of the receiver and to the payment of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) as aforesaid until a sale or other disposition of such Collateral shall be finally made and consummated.

6. Events of Default. The Debtor shall be in default under this Agreement upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, as such term is defined in the Loan Agreement (herein called "Events of Default").

7. Waivers. The Debtor hereby waives presentment, demand, notice, protest and, except as is otherwise provided herein, all other demands and notices in connection with this Agreement or the enforcement of the rights of the Secured Party hereunder or in connection with the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) or any Collateral and consents to and waives notice of the granting of renewals, extensions of time for payment or other indulgences to the Debtor or to any account debtor in respect of any account receivable, or the substitution, release or surrender of any Collateral, the addition or release of persons primarily or secondarily liable on any Secured Obligation or on any account receivable or other Collateral, the acceptance of partial payments on any Secured Obligation or on any account receivable or other Collateral and/or the settlement or compromise thereof. No delay or omission on the part of the Secured Party in exercising any right hereunder shall operate as a waiver of such right or of any other right hereunder. Any waiver of any such right on any one occasion shall not be construed as a bar to or waiver of any such right on any such future occasion. The Debtor further waives any right it may have to notice (other than any requirement of notice provided herein) prior to the exercise of any right or remedy provided by this Agreement to the Secured Party and waives its rights, if any, to set aside or invalidate any sale duly consummated in accordance with the foregoing provisions hereof on the grounds (if such be the case) that the sale was consummated without a prior judicial hearing. The Debtor's waivers under this Section 7 have been made voluntarily, intelligently and knowingly and after the Debtor has been apprised and counseled by its attorneys as to the nature thereof and its possible alternative rights.

8. Termination and Assignment. This Agreement and the security interests in the Collateral created hereby shall terminate as set forth in and pursuant to Section 3 of the Loan Agreement. No waiver by the Secured Party or by any other holder of Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) of any default shall be effective unless in writing nor operate as a waiver of any other default or of the same default on a future occasion. The Secured Party may waive any default hereunder with respect to the Note at any time outstanding. In the event of a sale or assignment by the Secured Party of all or any of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) held by the Secured Party, such Secured Party may assign or transfer their rights and interest under this Agreement in whole or in part to the purchaser or purchasers of such Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement), whereupon such purchaser or purchasers shall become vested with all of the powers and rights of such Secured Party hereunder, and such Secured Party shall thereafter be forever released and fully discharged from any liability or responsibility hereunder with respect to the rights and interest so assigned.

9. Governmental Approvals. The Secured Party acknowledges that in connection with any exercise by the Secured Party of its rights hereunder to dispose of or operate under the authorizations, permits and licenses covered hereby, it may be necessary to obtain the prior consent or approval of certain governmental authorities or instrumentalities. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein or in any security document, neither the Secured Party nor the Debtor will take any action pursuant to this Agreement or any of the security documents which would constitute or result in any assignment of a license, if such assignment of license would require under then existing law, the prior approval of any governmental authority or instrumentality, without first obtaining such approval of such governmental authority or instrumentality. Upon the exercise by the Secured Party of any power, right, privilege or remedy pursuant to this Agreement which requires any consent, approval, recording, qualification or authorization of any governmental authority or instrumentality, the Debtor will execute and deliver, or will cause the execution and delivery of, all applications, certificates, instruments and other documents and papers that the Secured Party may be required to obtain for such governmental consent, approval, recording, qualification or authorization.

10. Setoffs. If the Debtor shall fail generally to pay its debts as such debts become due, or any other Event of Default occurs and shall not have been waived by the Secured Party, the Secured Party shall have the right to setoff any indebtedness from the Secured Party to the Debtor and to apply the same toward the payment of any indebtedness from the Debtor to the Secured Party, whether or not said indebtedness, or any part hereof shall then be due.

11. Reinstatement. This Agreement shall continue to be effective, or be reinstated, as the case may be, at any time any amount received by the Secured Party in respect of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement) must, by order of a court, be restored or returned by the Secured Party upon the insolvency, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation or reorganization of the Debtor or upon the appointment of an intervenor or conservator of, or trustee or similar official for the Debtor or any substantial part of its properties, or otherwise, all as though such payments had not been made.

12. Notices. Except as otherwise provided herein, notice to the Debtor or to the Secured Party shall be in writing and deemed to have been sufficiently given or served for all purposes hereof if personally delivered or mailed by first class certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, at the respective addresses set forth in the preamble hereto, with copies to the parties designated therein, or at such other address as the party to whom such notice is directed may have designated by like notice in writing to the other parties hereto. A notice shall be deemed to have been given when personally delivered or, if mailed, on the earlier of (i) three business (3) days after the date on which it is deposited in the mails, or (ii) the date on which it is received.

13. [Intentionally omitted].

14. Amendment; Miscellaneous. The terms of this Agreement may be amended, modified or waived only with the written consent of the Debtor and the Secured Party. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns, and the term "Secured Party" shall be deemed to include any other holder or holders of any of the Secured Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement). In case a court of competent jurisdiction shall hold any provision in this Agreement to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts and by the different parties hereto on separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all of which together shall constitute one instrument.

15. Governing Law and Jurisdiction. This Agreement, including the validity hereof and the rights and obligations of the parties hereunder, shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Delaware. The Debtor, to the extent that it may lawfully do so, hereby consents to the jurisdiction of the courts of the State of California, as well as to the jurisdiction of all courts to which an appeal may be taken from such courts, for the purpose of any suit, action or other proceeding arising out of any of its obligations hereunder or with respect to the transactions contemplated hereby, and expressly waives any and all objections it may have as to venue in any such courts. The Debtor further agrees, to the extent that it may lawfully do so, that a summons and complaint commencing an action or proceeding in any of such courts shall be properly served and shall confer personal jurisdiction if served personally or by certified mail to it at its address provided in Section 12 of this Agreement or as otherwise provided under the laws of the State of California.

Patents

The Company has registered or applied for registration for the following patents:

- U.S. Patent No. 7,107,535
- U.S. Patent App. No. 11/491,678
- U.S. Patent No. 7,305,622
- U.S. Patent No. 7,152,106
- U.S. Patent No. 7,644,134
- U.S. Patent No. 7,673,340

U.S. Patent No. 7,107,535 (the “’535 patent”) issued on September 12, 2006, and claims methods for modifying a website structure based on analysis of past user navigation, to provide alternate user navigation in the future. The claimed methods analyze a user’s navigational path through web pages of the website to determine the user’s objective in visiting the website. Based on analysis of the path and the determined user objective, the methods recommend modifications to structural relationships between the web pages to provide alternate user navigation between the web pages in the future. For example, the methods can recommend modifications to transitional links, such as hyperlinks, between the web pages. As a result, the website can be updated to enable users to more effectively navigate through the web pages.

U.S. Patent Application No. 11/491,678 has not yet issued as a patent, but its pending claims have been allowed by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Like the related ’535 patent, the 11/491,678 application claims methods for modifying a website structure based on analysis of past user navigation, to provide alternate user navigation in the future. According to the claimed methods of the application, a navigational history of website users is created by monitoring users’ accesses to web pages of the website. Based on the navigational history, a recommendation is made to modify the navigational structure of the website, and the website is modified to result in alternate future user navigation. As a result, the website can be updated to enable users to more effectively navigate through the web pages.

U.S. Patent No. 7,305,622 (the “’622 patent”) issued on December 4, 2007, and claims methods for graphically displaying utilization patterns of a resource, such as a website. The methods analyze usage of a resource and provide one or more graphical displays representing that usage. For example, the methods can provide a tree-oriented site map representing various objects of interest of the resource, which can be, for example, web pages of a website. Various types and colors of lines can be overlaid on the site map to illustrate how users interact with the resource. More specifically, the methods analyze and illustrate how and whether users complete predefined tasks through the resource by displaying a hierarchical representation of the objects of interest and their navigational structure, overlaid with a representation of paths taken in user accesses to the objects of interest to perform a task. As a result, administrators can analyze graphical displays to determine how effectively tasks are performed with the resource.

U.S. Patent No. 7,152,106 (the “’106 patent”) issued on December 19, 2006, and claims methods for reconstructing a user’s navigational path through web pages of a website. For various reasons, a conventional website is often unable to log certain details of user interactions with the website. The claimed methods of the patent retrieve a partial navigational path and manipulate data to reconstruct the complete path. The partial path contains a set of web page step pairs, where each step pair includes a source web page and a destination web page. If a direct link exists between a destination web page and the source web page of the subsequent step pair in the partial path, then the methods insert a step into the path indicating that the user linked directly from the destination web page to the subsequent source web page. In this manner, the partial path can be reconstructed into a complete navigational path.

U.S. Patent No. 7,644,134 (the “’134 patent”) issued on January 5, 2010, and claims methods for analyzing user interaction with an interactive system to modify the interactive system to assist future users in performing defined tasks more effectively. The analyzed system can be a website having web pages linked by a navigational structure, but the claimed methods can also apply to other interactive systems. In the case of a website, tasks on the website are defined as predetermined sequences of user accesses to the website, where each task represents a function that can be achieved by a user through visiting the corresponding predetermined sequence of web pages on the website. In the claimed methods, actual user accesses are compared to a chosen task to determine whether a user completed at least a portion of the task. Based on comparisons of user accesses to the task, the claimed methods modify the website, or recommend modification of the website, to assist future users in performing the task more effectively.

U.S. Patent No. 7,673,340 (the “’340 patent”) issued on March 2, 2010, and claims systems and methods for analyzing user behavior on an interactive system, such as a website, to provide recommendations for improvement the interactive system. Insights about user interactions with the interactive system are provided in graph form, including a presentation graph and an optional application graph. A presentation graph illustrates various user interfaces, where each node of the graph is a single user interface experienced by a user. An application model can be established to represent a feature of the interactive system, and an optional application graph illustrates various states relating to the feature modeled in a particular application model. Along with other information, presentation and application graphs are used to analyze user interaction with the interactive system, to recommend improvements to the website. The systems and methods of the ’340 patent can be applied to a website, so the claimed systems and methods can be used to analyze and illustrate website usage.

10. Common Public License mechanism

wSDL4j.jar

The Company utilizes this product in its "unmodified" forms, and has created no modifications or derivative works of such software products which would implicate the terms of such licenses applicable to the creation or licensing of derivative works (e.g., obligations to disclose source code of such derivative works).

11. GNU GPL/LGPL licensing mechanism

Jfreechart.jar is a class library, written in Java, for creating charts, which is linked to the ClickFox application and which is distributed to end users. The Company has modified this library as is permitted under the LGPL, and is permitted by the LGPL to distribute the modified library. In addition, because the application is linked to the library, the application is, within the meaning of the LGPL, a "work that uses the Library". In addition to other obligations under the LGPL, the Company must make available the application in "object code and/or source code"; the Company satisfies this obligation by making the application available in object code form, but not in source code form.
