Schoenfeld Int'l - ATEC

The Company is monitoring the registration application of the mark ATEC by Schoenfeld Int'l. As of June 25, 2012, Schoenfeld Int'l had not responded to the Office Action from the USPTO and the Company has not found any evidence of actual use by Schoenfeld Int'l of the ATEC mark. The USPTO issued a Notice of Abandonment on June 26, 2012. The time period to revive the application has expired, and this matter is concluded.

Monster Cable Products - IMOTION

The Company filed an opposition proceeding against Monster Cable Products ("Monster") with respect to Monster's application to register the mark IMOTION with the USPTO. On May 3, 2012, the parties conducted the mandatory settlement/discovery conference. At that time, it was recommended that the Company propose a settlement to Monster. Monster was asked to restrict its use and registration of the mark to car chargers, which was rejected by Monster. The parties subsequently agreed to serve initial discovery to allow for possible settlement discussions. Altec is delinquent in its service of Initial Disclosures. Until Initial Disclosures are served by Altec, Altec may not propound any discovery on Monster. Currently, there is a deadline of September 30, 2012, with respect to disclosure of experts in this matter. Monster filed its discovery requests (requests for production of documents and interrogatories), and the Company's responses to that discovery are due October 26, 2012. Discovery in this matter is scheduled to close on October 30, 2012; however, the parties have stipulated to a 90 day extension of this deadline. The stipulation has not yet been approved by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board.
